

MRS. PARSONS TOLD INSIDE OF MOVIES INDUSTRY HAPPILY

FORMER DIXON LADY DELIGHTED ED LARGE AUDIENCE AT THE ASSEMBLY.

IS ENORMOUS ENTERPRISE

Millions Are Spent Yearly In Productions—Fortune for New Idea.

Even her most confident friends were delighted by the manner in which Mrs. Louella Parsons addressed a very large audience at the Rock River Assembly Monday evening. The former Dixon lady, whose rank in the moving-picture world is among the highest, delivered a most entertaining address on the proper pictures for the little folks, and famous movie stars she had met.

Her platform presence was especially easy and pleasing, while she told her auditors many inside facts of the great moving picture industry which were very interesting. Her lecture was enhanced by some excellent films.

Mrs. Parsons said in part:

It is very pleasant to come to Dixon and to meet all my old friends and neighbors again. I want to thank you all for coming here tonight and to say I am glad indeed to come back. I want to tell you a little secret at the very beginning. I am not a speaker. I am only a scribbler and you must not expect any William Jennings Bryan flights of oratory.

Dr. Altman has asked me to speak to you on the art of the cinema and the famous film folk whom I have met. In addition to this I am going to take you behind the studio wall and give you a glimpse of the actor at work.

The film manufacturers absolutely refuse to allow the public to peep into this enchanted land of mystery. Last month at the moving picture convention held in Chicago, the exhibitors passed a resolution asking film concerns not to allow the laity to penetrate the studio walls. They feel it would spoil the illusion of the moving picture audiences to see the tricks of the trade.

Risking their displeasure, however, I am going to take you with me on a journey to studio-land. It was something like five or six years ago since I accepted an invitation from the Essanay Film Co. to write scenarios and to read their submitted scripts. I remember it as well as if it were yesterday. I came home to tell my mother the glorious news. To my astonishment, she said in a very discouraging manner:

"Yes, it is very nice, but I wish it might have been a magazine or a newspaper."

Her sentiments were but the feelings of all my friends. The better class of people were not interested in moving pictures. If we did go into a movie show we looked carefully about to be sure that our neighbors did not see us patronizing this low form of amusement. We did not have the excuse of taking the kiddies, as we do to the circus, for the lurid form of melodrama was not considered proper for the little people.

Many Scenarios.

I often think with amusement of the early days at Essanay. I had a stenographer and one assistant, and together we read the six hundred scripts that poured in from the four corners of the globe. Everyone seemed bitten by the scenario bug and we had contributions from everyone from the motorman to the bank president. Such scenarios! We never paid more than $15 a reel and I venture to say that you could not give the same plays away today with a bonus of $1500 and get any film concern to produce them.

The better class of fictionists refuse to sell their precious brain children to the plebeian movies. They were not tempted at the prices offered in those days. The plays that were purchased were written by amateurs and had no plot or theme worth remembering.

The moving picture play is the foundation of the completed screen product and therefore, of the utmost importance. With the development of this great industry the high priced writers have fallen in line and there are very few today who have not had

ASSEMBLY STREETS CLOSED TO AUTOISTS

AVENUES NEAR AUDITORIUM TO BE CLOSED DURING THE ENTERTAINMENTS.

MACHINES DISTURB AUDIENCES

Many people who go to the auditorium to enjoy the lectures and concerts are complaining to the Assembly management at the conduct of auto owners who persist in driving near the auditorium to hear and see. Some drivers start their engines, back out and drive away during an entertainment, disturbing those in the building. Some people have little consideration for the comfort of the general public. In order to preserve order during concerts the management has issued an order that hereafter Mound avenue, between Third street and Central avenue, will be closed to autos during entertainments. The police on the grounds have orders to do their duty. People asked to comply with this order should do so without argument.

Park your machine behind the fence and keep it parked during an entertainment. There are some auto owners who would drive their cars down the aisles and upon the platform, if it were possible.

It is just a question as to whether the management wishes to please a dozen automobile owners or 5,000 people.

ICE FAMINE HITS DIXONITES AGAIN EXPECT SHIPMENT

DISTILLED WATER ICE CO. HAS NOT FULLY RECOVERED FROM DISABILITY.

CARLOAD ORDERED FROM NORTH

A Consignment of Ice From Madison
Should Reach This City
Tomorrow.

Residents of Dixon today experienced another ice famine, despite the utmost efforts of the Distilled Water Ice company, and no deliveries were made in the residence section today except to houses where there is sickness or where there are babies.

In reply to an inquiry from the Telegraph, Manager Sutterlin of the Distilled Water Ice company, stated that the local plant, which has been taxed since the beginning of the present hot spell, has not fully recovered from the recent break-down, and although ice has been shipped into Dixon regularly to relieve conditions here, the demand for it from all quarters has been so heavy that even the shipments are slow. The local plant ordered a carload of ice from Madison Saturday, but it has not yet arrived, consequently the famine.

Is Long Process.

Mr. Sutterlin stated that many people have a mistaken idea of the speed with which ice can be manufactured, believing that it requires from 12 to 18 hours to complete the process. As a matter of fact it requires from 48 to 60 hours to freeze one tank of 500 cakes of ice, consequently, when the demand had exhausted the reserve supply, which was at about the time the big pump at the plant failed, there was no opportunity to "catch up." It is expected the carload of the crystal will arrive from Madison tomorrow, thus relieving the local situation and helping the manufacturers make a little headway in their efforts to meet all demands.

FOUND STOLEN HORSE AFTER NIGHT SEARCH

LEE READ'S OUTFIT IS LOCATED WHERE RENTERS HAD TIED IT.

O'Connell and White were considerably bored by the heat Sunday afternoon and as a remedy hired a horse and buggy from Lee Read, then stocking up with "provisions" that tend to make an afternoon cool, they proceeded to take in the scenery at Lowell park. The trouble was, they loaded up too heavily on provisions and eventually lost track of their horse, but this did not seem to bother them until early Monday morning, when they called up the livery barn and told the night man their horse had been stolen. The night man went to the park and found the men sleeping peacefully in front of a farm house just this side of the park. He tried to wake the men, but they were too far under the influence and he went into the park to hunt for the horse but came back unable to find it. He telephoned Deputy Schoenholtz, who immediately went to the scene of the "robbery." The deputy found the horse tied to a hitching post and sent the night man back with it. He then attempted the stupendous task of arousing the gentlemen who had had their horse "stolen," and after much persuasion, "hot-footing," etc., they were aroused and taken to the county jail where they finished their slumber. They were released Monday morning and sent back to work.

Engine And Baler Burned; Buildings Near Destruction

Straw Stack On Hoyle Farm
In Palmyra Caught Fire Today

The buildings on the Bert Hoyle farm in Palmyra township were threatened with destruction by fire which this noon totally damaged a traction engine and baler belonging to Glenn Swartz. The baler was at work compressing straw which was piled near a big barn on the Hoyle farm when dry chaff became ignited from the engine, and soon the big pile of straw was in flames.

Neighbors were summoned as quickly as possible and through their valiant efforts the straw nearest the barn was moved and thus the flames were kept away from the building.

However, the engine and baler were practically totally destroyed. Mr. Swartz had no insurance on them.

BEGIN SURVEY OF DIXON QUADRANGLE

FEDERAL AND STATE EXPERTS ARE NOW WORKING IN SECTION.

ABOUT 200 SQUARE MILES

At a recent meeting the State Geological Survey commission, consisting of Gov. E. F. Dunne, President E. J. James, and Dr. T. C. Chamberlin, authorized a topographical survey of the Dixon quadrangle lying in Lee and Ogle counties, including about 200 square miles of territory. Already R. L. Harrison and H. S. Senseney, with parties, are located at Oregon in charge of the work on behalf of the Federal government and the State survey in co-operation.

Topographic maps are made primarily as a basis for the study of mineral resources, including oil and gas, but they also serve the purpose of engineers in the preliminary location of electric lines, drainage ditches, roads and other improvements. The average citizen will find the maps valuable for the sake of the accuracy with which roads, land lines, and houses are shown. In addition, the surface elevation above sea level is shown for all parts of the area.

Geographical investigations and reports of the Dixon quadrangle will probably be made one year later and at the same time surveys will be moved eastward to cover the Rochelle and Sycamore quadrangles.

DIXON'S EXISTENCE IS RESULT OF GOOD ROAD, SAYS DUNNE

GOVERNOR ADDRESSED LARGE CROWD AT ASSEMBLY ON
"GOOD ROADS."

COLONY TO RECEIVE PATIENTS

Chief Executive After An Inspection Tells Dixonites It Will Soon Open.

A large audience of Dixon and Lee county people heard Governor E. F. Dunne praise the spirit of this community, land its scenery and commend the thrift of the citizens of this part of the state at the Rock River Assembly this afternoon. Incidentally the Governor made the prediction that the Epileptic Colony, which he inspected, with members of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce, will be far enough advanced to receive patients late this fall.

Met By Opponent.

The Governor was met at the North Western passenger station by Col. W. B. Brinton, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and a number of the directors of the Dixon Chamber. Although Gov. Dunne and Mr. Brinton are rivals for the democratic gubernatorial nomination, their meeting was cordial and politics were not mentioned.

The party drove at once to the colony grounds where the governor was greatly interested in the work that has been done. He returned to the Assembly in time for his address at 3 o'clock, for which he was introduced by Mr. Brinton. The Governor said in part:

Ladies and Gentlemen:
Here in the romance country of Illinois, we are assembled today to discuss the prosaic but important subject of good roads.

My friends, have you ever read the history of this city and this county? Do you know that both owe their existence to a good road—a pioneer trail of the twenties' when the Galena lead mines drew the prospectors by the thousands and one of their number found that the best and the shortest road to wealth lay through Dixon.

What was true then is infinitely more certain today—that the way to wealth and prosperity and happiness and social justice lies over a good road.

This land has been favored. Where in all Illinois, or in the whole Mississippi Valley is its superior for beauty and fertility?

Bryant in his immortal verse sang of the scenes that entranced his soul and inspired his muse, as he gazed out on the prairies from the heights along Rock river.

In 1827 a pioneer named Kellogg, living at Fort Clark, now Peoria, decided to seek his fortune at Galena. He departed from the beaten paths to that field and out across country toward this point. He forded the Rock river a few miles above your city. The following year John Boles crossed the Rock river at the point known now as the Galena street bridge; and thereby Dixon came into existence; for other lead hunters followed the new trail and it became the recognized route to the land of prosperity.

Then came intense hostility between the whites and the Indians over the establishment of a ferry. The Indians refused to give up their profitable business of transferring travelers and goods by canoe, so they destroyed the work set up by the whites. However, in 1828, a French-Indian half-breed, named Joseph Ogee, established himself here and opened the first ferry. Because of his Indian extraction and his family relations with them, he was permitted to carry on his business in peace.

John Dixon came along in 1830 and bought him out. Dixon had lived in Sangamon county where he was the foreman of the first grand jury. Later he was a resident of Peoria county and served as its first circuit clerk. He was able to get along with the Indians and the settlement here grew and took its name.

Dixon became the strategic point in the Black Hawk war. About it hovers all the romance and the mystery of that famous Indian out-break. It was the rendezvous of the U. S. soldiers. Black Hawk and his army crossed the river at Dixon's ford. Prior to

JERSEY CITY.

Jersey City is a large region lying west of New York City, according to the geographers. It is separated from New York by the Hudson river and about 10000 through trains, and is rumored to be peopled by vast numbers of inhabitants who have attained a high degree of civilization, using the street cars, phonographs and safety razors with great fluency.

Little is actually known of Jersey City beyond these unauthenticated facts. Natives of the place who escape to New York are very reticent about alluding to it and usually register from San Francisco or some other well known place. Explorers from New York have occasionally penetrated into Jersey City as far as the police court, but have brought back little except tales of great hardships. In 1906 a New York man got off a Pennsylvania night train in Jersey City by mistake and swam the river because there was no ferry at that hour. He escaped safely, but his hair turned white during the trip, and the Pennsylvania railroad afterward altered its route and tunneled through to the country beyond in order to insure protection for its passengers.

North of Jersey City lies Hoboken, which is inhabited by a peculiarly fierce breed of jitney drivers who infest the steamship piers and prey upon incoming passengers. South of Jersey City are Elizabeth, Rahway, Metuchen and other explored regions consisting mostly of smokestacks.

The Geographical Society of New York has offered a medal to the first member who will explore and chart Jersey City, and as soon as the expeditions at present exploring Patagonia and Timbuctoo return an effort will be made to accomplish this feat. Owing to the entire dearth of lobster, soubrettes, arborets, roof gardens, champagne and other necessities of New York life, however, great hardships are sure to be encountered and the police may prevent the rash attempt.

a million dollars was made to begin the work and the Board of Administration was authorized to select the site and build the colony.

This Board has acted with commendable promptness and energy, to relieve a distressing situation in our state.

This colony will be a great and complete community in itself, representing ultimately an investment of many millions.

Here may we not hope that our scientific men may discover the cause of this wretchedness and give to a suffering world a remedy? But whether or not this is the result of our endeavors, we shall have the approval of our conscience that we have established here among the most pleasant and the most beautiful surroundings a home and a refuge for sorely afflicted humanity.

A county, such as yours, should have the best roads it is possible to obtain.

The Governor called attention to the work done in Vermillion county with their bond issue of $1,500,000; told of the highway conditions in Illinois; called attention to the provisions of the State aid road law and to the work which has been accomplished under it. The Governor told his audience that Lee county could issue $900,000 in bonds and the cost would be only 7 1/2 cents per acre of land per year for twenty years and by applying their state aid allotment to the liquidation of one-half the bond issue the cost would be only 4.9 cents per acre.

Attention was called to the attitude of the counties in favoring county bond issues for roads and a prediction was made that within 18 months elections will be called involving a total aggregate amount of $20,000,000; reward will certainly come in the 1920.

Advocate of Highway Improvement.

In speaking of his work for better highways in Illinois, the Governor said in part: "When I became a candidate for Governor in 1912 I found that the state whose public interests I was anxious to serve as Governor, the richest in agricultural products and land values, whose soil, on the average, was three times more valuable than that of the United States in general, permitted its rural life to be embargoed and isolated by its primitive means of communication, its markets, its centers of business and its gathering places of men and women to be separated from its country life by almost impassable barriers. In my inaugural message in January, 1913, I devoted as strong a presentation of this subject as was within my power. This measure contained the following passage: 'The loss to farmers because of inaccessible primary markets and the abnormal expense of transportation due to bad roads must be considered as a contributing cause of the high cost of living. * * * Bad roads not only hinder crop production and marketing, but they keep the rural consumer away from the store of the merchant for weeks at a time. They keep the pupils from schools and the voters from political gatherings and from participating in elections. They impair the efficiency of churches and social, fraternal and other organizations. Bad roads contribute to the unattractiveness, the isolation and monotony of country life that are responsible for the depopulation of rural precincts, especially by the young. Experts in mental ailments agree that women in remote sections are the chief sufferers from the restrictions of communication and social intercourse which bad roads impose.'"

"The recommendation of the message touched the legislative heart and the present good roads law was the result."

The Governor then recited how the Tice Road Law had been passed and how the organization of the State Highway Department had been perfected.

He called attention to the fact that the Commission was doing work of which Illinois may well be proud for, he said, "they are seeing that the State's work is done in the highest class manner and that every dollar paid out is earned by the contractors."

600 Miles By 1917.

Continuing, the Governor said: "We have built, up to the present time, approximately 150 miles of our State aid road system and it is planned to construct about 450 miles this year, so that in 1917 we will have made a start of 600 miles toward the complete system of 15,000 miles of State highway, which our plans contemplate."

"Toward this work the state, in 1913, appropriated $1,100,000 which being met by a like sum from the counties, made $2,200,000 for road construction in 1913-14. In 1915 the State appropriation was increased to $2,000,000, making $4,000,000 available for State road building in the present biennial period."

Bond Issue Roads in Illinois.

Attention was called to the fact that the question of creating bonds for building a county system of roads is meeting with great favor in this State.

Vermillion county's $1,500,000 issue, which is being so successfully carried on, has given a great impetus to the movement which the governor predicted in the next 18 months would involve about 30 counties and an aggregate amount of $20,000,000. This fall the counties of Adams, Brown, Stephenson and St. Clair are to vote on the Bond Issue proposition.

Federal Aid Act.

Speaking of the Federal Aid Act, which appropriates $85,000,000 as Federal aid for highway improvement, Governor Dunne said: "It is both a compliment and a very encouraging fact that the United States Federal government, in making provisions for spending $85,000,000 upon the roads of the country, as Federal Aid, patterned their statute after the Illinois State Aid Road Law. The relation of the states to the Federal government, in the Federal Aid Act, is exactly the same as the relation of the various counties in Illinois to the state under our State Aid Law."

Improved Roads Gaining Favor.

In concluding his remarks the Governor said: "Happily the fear that hard roads are going to bankrupt us is fast disappearing because we have been able to demonstrate by practical experience and by undeniable statistics that such a disaster is impossible."

"The phone has been done. Opposition based on fear and ignorance has given place to satisfaction and interest. We have a law that is elastic and comprehensive, our theory of State aid is correct in principle and workable in practice. In ten years our position in the matter of public highways will be of fame rather than notoriety."

Two Dive Boats Are Sighted Off Maine

It Is Not Known Whether One Is Bremen.

Machlesport, Me., Aug. 8.—At least one submarine and possibly two are lurking off somewhere on the New England coast. Whether they are German—one of them the long-awaited Bremen—it is impossible to say.

The first craft was sighted off Cross Island, on the Maine coast, in the morning. Shortly afterward another lookout on the same island sighted what he believed to be another submarine and a smaller one. Both submerged soon after coming into view and did not appear again.

The first submarine vanished after a warning signal had been sounded from the lighthouse on Seal Island, a British possession, to the keeper of the Grand Manan light, also British owned. Several short blasts were sounded from the Seal Islands, after which the submarine disappeared.

MORGAN HAS $126,833,000

Doubles Father's Wealth in British Munition Orders and War Loans.

New York, Aug. 8.—J. P. Morgan, from figures learned by the appraisal of his father's estate, has made as much money during the last two years as the old head of the house made during his entire career. The elder Morgan's estate was appraised last week at $73,149,000, of which $53,684,000 went to the present J. P. Morgan.

Nearly all the amount made by the present Morgan was earned through munition orders and commissions on loans, the Morgan firm having received a commission of 2 per cent on all munitions and supplies purchased by the British government.

ROUMANIA CRISIS IS PASSED

Tension Created by Country's Stand Toward Central Powers Subsiding.

Berlin, Aug. 8.—According to dispatches from Sofia the tension created by Roumania's recent position toward the central powers is rapidly subsiding, and the crisis is considered passed.

It is generally believed here that while the joining by Roumania of the entente allies had been seriously considered, Roumanian statesmen, in view of the present military situation, to which the change in command on the Russian east front contributed materially, have decided to postpone action.

Suppose You Couldn't Get Ice Anymore

Why, life in you home would be scarcely worth living in this torrid weather.

Your food would spoil, your children would fret, and you would suffer many personal discomforts—everything would be at sixes and sevens.

Remember this when you are tempted to think of ice as a "necessity," a "luxury" or a "weather tax."

Just think what a concrete blessing OUR ICE is, how cheap it is compared with other things that go into your home, and don't hesitate to use it freely. Have plenty of it in the ice chest of your refrigerator at all times. That is true economy.

RAILROAD WAGES

Shall they be determined by Industrial Warfare or Federal Inquiry?

To the American Public:

Do you believe in arbitration or industrial warfare?

The train employees on all the railroads have voted whether they will give their leaders authority to tie up the commerce of the country to enforce their demands for a 100 million dollar wage increase.

The railroads are in the public service—your service. This army of employees is in the public service—your service.

You pay for rail transportation 3 billion dollars a year, and 44 cents out of every dollar from you goes to the employees.

On all the Western railroads in 1915, seventy-five per cent of the train employees earned these wages (lowest, highest and average of all) as shown by the pay rolls—

	Passenger		Freight		Yard
	Range	Average	Range	Average	Range	Average
Engineers.	$1747 3094	$2195	$1537 3076	$2071	$1056 2445	$1378
Conductors	1543 2789	1878	1454 2933	1935	1151 2045	1355
Firemen	1033 2078	1317	751 2059	1181	418 1552	973
Brakemen.	854 1719	967	874 1961	1135	862 1821	1107

The average yearly wage payments to all Western train employees (including those who worked only part of the year) as shown by the 1915 payrolls were—

	Passenger	Freight	Yard
Engineers	$2038	$1737	$1218
Conductors	1772	1624	1292
Firemen	1218	973	832
Brakemen	921	1000	1026

A 100 million dollar wage increase for men in freight and yard service (less than one-fifth of all employees) is equal to a 5 per cent advance in all freight rates.

The managers of the railroads, as trustees for the public, have no right to place this burden on the cost of transportation to you without a clear mandate from a public tribunal speaking for you.

The railroads have proposed the settlement of this controversy either under the existing national arbitration law, or by reference to the Interstate Commerce Commission. This offer has been refused by the employees' representatives.

Shall a nation-wide strike or an investigation under the Government determine this issue?

Parsons, photo-play critic of the Chicago Herald, as she started her speech at the Assembly last evening. Of course, you will hear all about her speech in other columns, about her plea that the people should demand the very best in pictures and they would get them, and her delightful anecdotes of cinema stars and directors. The pictures shown with her talk gave the inside workings of the movie studios, a revelation to most movie fans. Mrs. Parsons' pleasure that it was an audience in her old home town that she was addressing was evident as was also the pleasure of the audience in hearing one of their former townpeople.

Dempsey-Blackburn Nuptials

St. Mary's Church of Walton was the scene of a beautiful early morning wedding, that of Miss Margaret Blackburn, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Blackburn of Harmon, among the influential people of that vicinity, and Edward Dempsey, Jr., a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dempsey of Walton. The nuptial mass was solemnized by Rev. Fr. Conley at eight o'clock. Miss Florence Blackburn, a sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid; the groom was attended by a friend, George Grohens. One hundred relatives and friends were at the church. A wedding reception for the relatives and intimate friends was held at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony, and a wedding breakfast was served to twenty-two.

The bride was very lovely in a dainty gown of white crepe de Chine, with which a large white picture hat was worn. She carried a white prayer book and rosary. Her attendant was prettily gowned in a white silk and also wore a large white hat. A large bunch of white roses was carried by the bridesmaid. Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mrs. Edward Lally and the singing of a beautiful wedding song, by Mrs. Carl Ackert, preceded the ceremony.

Among the guests at the reception and breakfast were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dempsey, his sister, Miss Leo, and his grandmother, Mrs. Peter Leuer of Amboy. White and pink roses were attractively united to form the decorations for the tables from which the breakfast was served.

Hammond, Indiana, Chicago, and Aurora, will be visited on the wedding trip, upon which Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey started at eleven o'clock this morning. An aunt will be visited at Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey are among the most estimable of the young people of the county and their union is viewed with great interest by their many friends who would shower them with wishes for happiness. Mr. Dempsey is an enterprising young farmer and he and his bride will take up their residence on a farm this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Todd will leave Saturday for a trip on Lake Michigan.

Mystic Workers Drill Team

Members of the Mystic Worker Drill team are requested to meet at the home of Ezra Hoover, 725 Chicago Road, at 7:30 this evening. This is an important meeting and all should be present. By order of Drill Master.

Health Notes

A doctor expresses the opinion that nine times out of ten the woman who nags is tired. One time out of ten she is hateful.

Keep a watchful eye on the children's school lunch; if they have good, nourishing lunches they will be better able to stand the strain of school work.

When you are tired and nervous, a good rubbing all over the body with the lotion here given will be very restful. Lie quietly in bed after the rubbing for half an hour and you will then feel quite equal to taking up the daily tasks again. Here is the lotion: Diluted alcohol, six ounces; cologne water, six ounces; tannin, ten grains.

To remove marks on the table caused by hot dishes spread a thin paste made of salad oil and salt on the spots, leave for an hour or so and then rub off with a soft cloth.

Water in which macaroni has been cooked will make excellent starch to use for dainty lingerie garments or fine gingham.

Care of the Nose

We hear much about the proper care of the eyes, the ears and complexion, yet how very little about the nose, which is a very important part of the body. A woman who suffered for years with headaches never knew that her nasal passages were almost entirely closed and that she did practically all her breathing through her mouth. The necessary operation was tedious and painful to correct what should have been attended to when she was a child. It is best to correct such affections early in life. Nasal disorders are responsible for many other very serious troubles that are not easily cured by medicinal treatment.

Denouncing Medicines

Wholesale denunciation of proprietary medicines is no more justifiable than wholesale denunciation of the medical profession. It is no more true that there are reputable physicians who unselfishly devote their lives to an unending struggle with disease than that there are standard remedies which do as good a work often where the work of a good physician cannot reach. A good example is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which has for fifty years been alleviating the sufferings of women and curing the ills peculiar to their sex.

REFUSE PAPER

Newspapers, wrapping papers and the like must usually either be burned in the house or sold, for it is against city laws to burn paper, cloth or wood in ash pits. The accumulation of paper is enormous in a month's time, and it is not safe to burn it in the furnace as it chokes the flues, making them unfit for use. The best plan is to fold the papers and tie them in a big bundle, throw them into a barrel or box and sell them. Children who want a few pennies will take care of the refuse paper to get it to sell. Do not keep papers too long, for if they dampen they mould. It's a nuisance to take care of them, but they will be less care if they are all kept together and tied ready for sale. Do not throw boxes and papers into the basement to be carted out some day, you know not when, for a single spark might set them afire.

A Home Welcome

Have you ever gone up the broad marble steps of a stone mansion, stood at the door until admitted by a very prim and proper maid, and found yourself ushered into a cheerless grand room, where you were told to be seated on a gilt chair to await the coming of the mistress? Have you gone into a pleasant house where there was a big open fireplace, a gathering place for the family and all who wandered in? And have you sat there chatting and talking, happy in that family circle? Have you felt and seen the ruddy glow from the firelight outside? Yes, you have had both experiences and perhaps you are asking: "Why is it that we see so many cheerless looking homes? Are the inmates so indifferent to the real charm of home? Are they not interested in their homes?" We see curtains drawn in the mansion homes with shutters closed, and it seems the beautiful flowers, trees and grassy lawn surrounding some of these places are almost cheerless too. They look like the flowers that surround a sepulcher. It isn't the house, the furnishings, nor the general surroundings that gives a home welcome, but it is that unnamable something that draws like a powerful magnet. There is no magnetism where all is cold, cheerless, gilded and too pompous for genuine comfort. I once heard a woman of considerable wealth say: "I would rather be in my mother's kitchen, than in heaven." Possibly because that humble little kitchen represented a part of heaven on earth to her when she was a girl at home.

Recipes

Rice and Meat Casserole—Boil a cup of rice. Line a buttered pan with the hot rice. When cold fill the center with chopped cooked meat of any kind, season well. Add gravy. Set in pan of water and bake half an hour. Turn out on a dish and serve with tomato sauce.

Tomato Sauce—Take two table spoonfuls of butter, two table spoonfuls of flour, one table spoonful of salt, a sprinkle of cayenne pepper and one and one half cupfuls of tomato juice. Melt butter until it bubbles, add flour and seasoning and stir until smooth, then add tomato juice and stir constantly until it thickens.

Newfoundland Duff—Raisin pudding: Two cups flour, with one tea spoonful of soda sifted in it, one-half cup snuffed fine one cup raisins, one-half cup of sugar, one-half cup molasses, one half cup milk, or more if needed, one tea spoonful salt, all kinds of spices. Boil three hours.

Mock Maple Syrup—One cup of white sugar, two cups of brown sugar, one and a quarter cup of boiling water. Boil three or four minutes. When cool add one tea spoon of vanilla and put into jars. This is fine with griddle cakes or hot biscuits.

Short Change; Short Weight

When you go to housekeeping, have a pair of trustworthy scales and put them to use. You are often cheated out of the proper amount of sugar, lard, meat, etc., especially meat. This may be the result of carelessness on the part of clerks, for no reliable dealer would intentionally lose trade by short weighing goods. If you see you are getting short weight, weigh your articles, then attend to it at once.

Then look for short change. Often when clerks are hurried they make short change. Sometimes, though not often, they give too much in return. Yet many women take the change from a bill and carelessly slip it into the purse without counting it. It seems a little item to watch weights and change, but both count up in the year and prove a leakage in the household savings that can only be stopped with a certain amount of care and watchfulness.

For the Housewife

Do not pile leftover cooked potatoes together, as they will sour quickly. Spread them out on a large dish.

To make linen look like new when ironing it, do not starch, but wring out of hot water and roll in dry cloth and let lie for a half hour; iron with a good hot iron until thoroughly dry.

Here is another suggestion for the woman who spends a good deal of time in the kitchen. A raw potato cut in half and rubbed on the fingers stained with vegetable parings will remove the discolorations.

Health Notes

For a table in bed use a soapbox; remove sides, cover.

Cramps in the stomach are frequently relieved by applying hot cloths over the pit of the stomach or a mustard plaster.

HEALTH NOTES

To use the dental floss or waxed silk thread and quill toothpicks is recommended for the removal of food from between teeth that are slightly separated. This practice should follow each meal.

A sty on the eye is not only sufficient to spoil anyone's good looks, but it is decidedly painful besides. To cure this disfigurement make a poultice of fresh tea leaves moistened with water and apply to the sty.

Probably more character is shown by the eyes and mouth than the other features of the face, and yet the most beautiful of mouths will be destroyed by uncared for teeth and an offensive breath, for the latter is sure to follow if the teeth are not in the best of condition.

Don't be afraid of letting children get dirty. Dress them for it. Girls should be put into trousers like a boy instead of skirts. Trousers would be much more modest than the ordinary dress of girls three years of age. Their skirts generally hardly reach down to their knees and their legs are bare; or if not bare they are clad in such a way that they are certainly not anything like as modestly clothed as they would be if they had on pantaloons like the boys—little roustabout clothes—and just turned loose to play in the dirt to make mud pies, to get down and wallow in the earth. There is no danger in this. The soil is clean dirt, so to speak; there is nothing pernicious in it.

To Shrink a Shirt

To properly shrink a very wide shirt by hand, quarter with a bright thread then shrink each section separately. If you use three or four rows of shirring, use as many needles for the purpose. Start the first row, then the second and remaining ones. Run a few inches on the first row, follow it up with a second, etc. Draw up the threads, distribute the gathers by stroking them evenly into place with a needle. Measure the bodice into four sections, and have each shirred piece to correspond with the bodice edge. Remember in distributing these small gathers not to have each row the same length; an increase of one half inch in each lower row is necessary to give the natural curve over the hips. If a heavy shirring is desired, make a short stitch and one long one. Continue so on each row. Fine stitching makes a more compact shirring, used mostly in yoke effects.

A bit of dainty work, and that which well suits the nimble fingers of a clever needlewoman, is the making of infant clothes for patrons who either do not wish to make the garments, or else could not, if they so desired. It is remunerative and once one gets a good business reputation for this line of work, there is every opportunity to have sewing of this kind throughout the year. The little articles are tedious to make, yet women of means expect to pay good prices for them. If ready bought they are very expensive. One young woman not yet out of her teens makes a very good living doing this line of work, including also embroidery.

How to Stitch Velvet

To stitch velvet on the machine so that the presser foot will not crush the material, lift the presser foot slightly so it will not drag upon the goods, then direct the velvet with the right hand. Often goods that would crush or drag under the presser foot will stitch nicely if this precaution is taken. To press a seam on velvet dampen the goods slightly on the wrong side and pass the opened seam over the side of a hot iron. Lay the iron on one side so do this.

If you would have a clear complexion drink plenty of water between meals and exercise out of doors every day.

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulified coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two tea spoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulified coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

ILLINOIS "SPOTLESS CITY" CELEBRATESSpirited Two-Day Fetes End at Columbia.

Columbia, Ill., Aug. 8.—Columbia ended a lively two-day celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Columbia Gymnastic association. Almost all the people of the community, which has been called "the Spotless City" and the "City of Gardens and Homes," belong to the association.

More than 2,500 persons attended the celebration on the first day (Saturday), and more than 4,000 Sunday.
Many of the old residents of the town, who have moved to other parts of the country, returned.

The association was founded May 8, 1866, by Gustav Pentzler, who died in 1913. It was incorporated in 1871.
Three charter members still are living in Columbia—Charles Schuler, president of the First National Bank of Columbia, John Kolp and George Riebling.

One of the features was the hourly firing of a cannon, cast at Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1849. The cannon went through the civil war with an Illinois artillery company.

Witnesses said the men met on the sulted. Thompson is said to have

Daddy's Bedtime

How a Nightingale Story— Answered a Sick Emperor.

The Real Nightingale Perched Outside.

[Adapted from Hans Christian Andersen.]

"O H. daddy, please tell us a story," cried Jack and Evelyn.
"Once upon a time an emperor who lived in China had a make believe nightingale to sing for him. But one day the spring inside the bird broke, so the nightingale could sing but once a year after it was mended. After five years the emperor became very sick, so sick that his whole kingdom feared he might die. They chose a new emperor and stood about the streets near the castle asking the highest courtier how the old emperor was getting on.

"Ill," said the highest courtier, shaking his head.
"The poor old emperor lay very pale and sick in his gorgeous bed. The courtiers thought him dead and went off to pay their respects to the new ruler. The lackeys ran off to talk about the new emperor, and the chambermaids gave a great coffee party. All was very, very quiet in the castle, but the old emperor was not dead yet. There was an open window above him, and the moonlight streamed in upon him and his make believe nightingale.

"He was so sick he imagined that curious faces and evil deeds were talking to him. 'Do you remember this?' 'Do you remember that?' he imagined they said to him. This made the old emperor very nervous.

"Music!" he shouted. "Music, I say!" Sound the great Chinese drums so I cannot hear what these faces say! You precious little gold bird that I have loaded with jewels and hung my gold slipper on, sing, I tell you!"

"But the make believe nightingale stood silent and still. There was nobody to wind it up, and it could not sing unless somebody wound it up. The poor old emperor was silent and still, too, for death had almost found him.

"Suddenly, close to his window, there was a burst of lovely song. It was the real nightingale perched on a branch outside the emperor's window. It had heard that the emperor was very sick and had come to bring him comfort and hope. As it sang the curious faces and evil deeds that had bothered the old sick man became fainter and fainter, the blood came back into his pale face, and new strength came to his tired body. Even death listened to the real nightingale and whispered to him, 'Go on, little bird, go on!'

"So the nightingale sang all about the quiet churchyard, where roses bloomed and flowers made the air sweet and where fresh grass sparkled in the dew each morning. This song made death long for his own garden, and, like a gray mist, he passed out of the window."

"Oh, daddy, the real nightingale saved the emperor's life!" cried Jack.

Gossip Of The Campers

Many people met and shook hands with Governor Dunne after his address this afternoon.

The campers are enjoying the cool er weather.

Arthur Altman, general utility boy, is about as busy as any fellow on the grounds. He is property man for all the talent. He is the lad who furnishes the supplies when needed.

He rings the bell and sees that the auditorium platform is arranged for every entertainment. Arthur is always wanted and gets no time for much play. He does not have time to even see his best girl. But someday this lad, Arthur, will be the maker of programs and some other lad will do his bidding.

The bathing beach still retains its popularity.

Some of the campers have an awful time trying to operate the sanitary fountains.

The park police have thus far reported no trouble. It is painfully quiet each night this season.

The "sandwich" man is doing a good business, on the outside of the grounds.

As the end of the session draws near the post card business is picking up.

Health Notes

To keep a house in perfect sanitary condition does not mean that it must be sweeping, dusting, and scrubbing all the time. It is not so much the dust that is in sight as it is the cleanliness, dampness, and decay in dark, unnoticed places that make a place unsanitary.

There is a doctor who waged a war against tight collars when they were in fashion, and if they come back to fashion, which seems likely, it is well to remember his arguments. He attributes many alarming symptoms to the collar that binds the neck too closely.
The trouble does not lie in the fact that the pressure on the windpipe is too severe. This pressure, to be sure is not a good thing; but the neck, it seems, has many highly organized, sensitive nerves, which do their best to notify their owner that they are being badly treated by making her lizzy, faint, short of breath and filled with various aches and pains.

For the Housewife

In cleaning clothes with gasoline a ring is sometimes left. The ring can be removed by steaming over a teakettle.

Dried orange peel revives a neglected fire more thoroughly and quicker than anything else, but is a very noisy and spluttery remedy.

A little bag of sulphur suspended in a bird cage is not only healthful for the bird but will keep away the parasites with which most birds are apt to be infested.

Pack bottles of medicine or backing in your rubbers when going on a short trip. After wrapping them carefully and placing them in the rubbers, tie the two together firmly, and wrap in paper. You will be saved from the fear of the contents leaking on your clothes.

Short Cuts

When there is a hot fire for ironing many things may be cooked in the oven. Pie plant is delicious if cut, sprinkled with sugar and cooked in the oven with or without a cover.
Make jams, tomato catsup and many such things in the oven.

To keep food hot without drying out set the pans in which the food has been cooked over hot water.

In washing dishes rinse and dry glass and silver. The china rinse in hot water and drain; it will need hardly a touch of the towel when other things are done.

Make a hay box if you haven't a fireless cooker. It is invaluable for cereals, corn meal mush, stewing dried fruits and cooking vegetables which need considerable time.

Keep two lengths of broom sticks and if you have to move a box or trunk use them as rollers.

A piece of mosquito bar over a tin can open at both ends makes a good rink strainer and can be burned up at the end of the day's work.

A roll of waxed paper containing 50 sheets may be purchased for five cents and will be found useful in many ways. Used to wrap each article of food separately in putting up the lunch box it prevents the odor of one article or food affecting another. If a piece of cheese is placed in the lunch box unwrapped the odor will penetrate everything else, perhaps spoiling the entire lunch for one who dislikes the odor of cheese.

Spread over the cut surface of a ham it prevents it drying out from the surface. It will also keep the cut surface of a watermelon from spoiling as it sometimes will in hot water.

When, as is often the case, one needs to keep bandages wet with medicine, an outer wrapping of waxed paper will prevent the medicine staining the bedding and also prevent its evaporating.

Use it to line baking tins in cake-making. Remove the cake from the tin and leave the paper on the cake until ready to cut it.

Sliced dried beef wrapped in the waxed paper will keep fresh.

When the sawdust stuffing begins to leak out of the little girl's dolls, melt some paraffin wax and with a teaspoon pour the hot wax on the leaky spot. It will soak into the sawdust and cooling will hold the sawdust from sifting out.

If a little round hole comes in your wash boiler push a toothpick snugly into the hole and cut off the extra ends. The water will swell the wood and keep it in place, entirely stopping the leak.

If you have an iron kettle that has a hole in it you can get it repaired at the iron foundry so it will be as good as new. The hole is filled with melted iron and burnished smooth. You can also get ironware of all kinds ground over and polished as good as new for a small sum.

Recipes

Lemon Sauce—One cupful of sugar, half a cupful of butter, one egg beaten light, one lemon, juice and grated rind half a cupful of boiling water. Put it in an enamel ware basin and thicken over steam.

Swiss Steak—Get one pound of the bottom of the round, cut thick, an inch and a half at least. Wash and wipe it. Put a spoonful or more of flour on it and pound to a pulp. Turn over and continue till it is all reduced to a pulp. Heat your iron saucepan hot put in a spoonful of butter and put in your steak. Brown quickly on both sides, then put on salt and pepper, put a little hot water and cover it. Let it simmer about two hours, turning it occasionally and putting in water as it needs, only a little at a time. It should be tender and of fine flavor.

Grapefruit Trifle—Remove the fruit from two large firm grapefruit; spread some macaroons with apricot jam and line the bottom of the compote with them, cover them with a layer of the grapefruit pulp and sprinkle all with powdered sugar. Make the boiled custard and when it is chilled color it a delicate green with the Breton coloring, heap the top with the whip and garnish the top with candied mint leaves and candied violets.

Needlework.

When sewing buttons on a little child's dress run a tape down the wrong side first, then sew on buttons the desired distance apart. You will find the buttons will never tear away from the goods, no matter how hard wear it is given.

One of the quickest ways to sew lace on a garment is to crease the hem exactly as it is to be, then unfold it and stitch the lace just a trifle above the crease on the wrong side. The hem is turned again and sewed in place. In this way the stitching of the lace does not show on the right side and is not easily ripped.

An easy way to do quilting is to place the lining on the floor perfectly smooth. After the padding and top have been laid on, run lines of long stitches thru the quilt about twelve inches apart. Carefully lift it to the sewing machine, letting all the weight rest on chairs to prevent straining the machine needles. Lengthen the stitch on the machine and quilt in lines three inches apart. Cross lines can be run and thus make squares or diamonds if so desired. The work is done more quickly and will last longer than when done by the old method of quilting.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Be sure that you never fill enameled pans with cold water immediately after emptying boiling water from them, or the enamel will crack and split off.

If a little vinegar and a handful of

When you wish to place a painted

To mend broken china successfully try the following way. Put one full tablespoon of gum arabic into one quarter of a cupful of warm water, and when dissolved add as much plaster of Paris as is needed to make a thick paste. Then apply it to the broken china at once, being very careful to match the edges well, and by placing the china in a box of sawdust while the cement is hardening, you will be able to keep it in any desired position so that the pieces are held in place until they are firmly joined.

Mother's Turkey Soup—Many of you who have turkey have some left over.
Here is a method of making it into delicious soup. Place the frame of a cold turkey with the remnants of dressing and gravy in a kettle, and cover with cold water, simmer gently three hours and let it stand till the next day. Remove the fat, skim off all the bits and bones. Put the soup on to heat until it boils; then thicken slightly with flour wet with water to a smooth paste, and season to taste.
Serve with baked potatoes, as a gravy, or as a soup as preferred. Chicken that has been baked can be used in the same manner.

one story immortalized in celluloid.

Fortune Awaiting.

When I tell you this you will realize what a scarcity of good screen material there is. My friends, a fortune awaits the man, woman or child who has an original idea which can be made into a screen play. I feel so strongly on this subject that only last year I wrote a book entitled "How To Write for the Movies." This was written primarily to give the amateur an idea how to market his ideas. C. Gardner Sullivan, the photo-playwright, who writes most of the Tom Ince productions, was unheard of a few years ago; today he receives a higher salary than the president of the United States. So, I cannot resist the opportunity to say again, for the person with ability and creative talent there awaits a fortune in the film world.

In the early days of Essanay, we were all like one big family. Francis Bushman used to perch on my desk, and beg me to either write or buy a suitable scenario for him. His idea of a suitable scenario was one in which he could play the hero role. He never liked to appear in an unfavorable light before the picture audiences. This was before Mr. Bushman was voted the world's most popular screen idol. The plays at that time had a leading man, a leading woman, a villain and a character man or woman.

Got Many Gifts

Some few years later the Ladies' World offered a gold medal for the most popular screen player in the world. From that time on the Bushman vogue increased. Little girls, who adored the Bushman beauty, sent him in their tributes. His letters numbered fully 2,000 a week. He took them quite seriously and answered each one of his fond correspondents with a personal letter. At Christmas time the postman would make three or four extra trips to the Essanay plant to deliver the Bushman gifts. There were always a great array—green glass scarf pins, gray cravats, handkerchiefs, cuff buttons, socks and every sort of thing that a man would like.

With the change in Francis X's fortune there came a change in his mode of living. He had a great retinue of servants—a groom, a physical trainer, a chauffeur and a valet. His valet, Johnnie Powers, was a little short man who stuttered. He had been in the employ of Richard Mansfield, James K. Hackett and other great actors, but no one ever received the adoration he gave Mr. Bushman.

Use Mercury Lights.

Most of the interior sets are erected on the studio floor. The Essanay film company uses Peter Cooper Hewitt mercury lights. These are rich in actinic rays and give the actor a very queer purplish pallor which makes him look as if he were very ill. Out in California, where the climate and sunshine lend themselves to picture production the studios are called daylight studios, and the pictures are made out of doors. There has always been more or less controversy on the part of the indoor and outdoor studio men, each one claiming to have a superior quality of photography. Much may be said in favor of each of these studios; one thing that especially recommends the artificial lighting is the indifference with which the producer can regard the weather. He can work rain or shine, day or night.

Essanay has recently erected a moving picture studio which is the largest of its kind in the world. It amuses me when I go there now to see the mammoth building, and to compare it with the one big office we used to have six years ago. We could have put our entire studio into one corner of the big building.

Up To People.

Right here I want to make a plea for the artistic development of the motion picture. It is in a chaotic condition right now, and it remains with you men and women just what the outcome will be. If you review and accept any picture your exhibitor gives you, you are not making any strides in the right direction. The moving picture is the fifth greatest commercial industry in the world; it is your duty to make it one of the greatest artistic achievements. You are the exhibitor, the market and he will endeavor to please you. If you see badly produced, inconsistent plays with suggestive themes, without telling him of your displeasure, he will not try to correct this evil, but if you let him see you do not care for pictures of the lurid, unwholesome type he will soon get screen plays you will like. He is the film manufacturer's market and through you only can the right sort of moving pictures be secured for the theatres.

Plea for Children.

There is also one subject which lies close to my heart and which I feel I must speak to you about tonight. Don't let your children see any picture which comes to your theatres. First, I have a little daughter, Harriet, whom you all know. I do not allow her to see any film which I have not first censored. The child's little mind is like a beautiful rose bud; if you force it open with unnatural things you will have a warped rose. Do not try to make the little mind absorb things which it cannot understand. Keep the little people away from suggestive, unwholesome plays.

7 p. m.—(a) Prelude, Dixon Chamber of Commerce Band.

8 p. m.—(a) Concert, Metropolitan Grand Quartet.

9:30 p. m.—(a) Moving Pictures.

Tonight at 8 o'clock at the Assembly, Sidney Landon will entertain with impersonations. An impersonator of high rank always gives an interesting entertainment. Landon is one of the best in this country. His work is high class. He brings Twain, Nye, Longfellow, Holmes, Tennyson, Thackeray, Hugo, Poe and many others back to life. He completely loses his own personality in the character he portrays, so completely that the audience feels that Landon has indeed vanished and the man he impersonates is present.

Quartet Is Good.

The Metropolitan Grand Quartet is with the Assembly today and tomorrow. This afternoon at 2 o'clock this well balanced musical organization rendered an excellent concert to a large and appreciative audience. This is the best organization of its kind the Assembly offers this season.

Signor Mauno, dramatic tenor, has sung in leading opera companies of his native land before coming to America.

Paul Chase, lyric tenor, is a clear tenor of great strength, purity of tone and wide range.

John Eberly, baritone, has organized several quartets, all big successes. This quartet is far superior to any of them and Mr. Eberly is proud of his associates.

Thomas Wade Alne, basso, sings beautifully. He is a rich, true low bass voice, well handled and well cultivated. He sings only the best music and is known as the best quartet bass in chautauqua work.

This clever quartet will sing a prelude this evening before the Landon entertainment. Wednesday evening the quartet will sing a grand concert.

The Dixon Chamber of Commerce band will play a prelude at 7 o'clock.

Clark Wednesday.

Dr. Henry Clark will deliver his great lecture, "Stop! Look! Listen!" Dr. Clark has filled, to the delight of managers, over 2,000 chautauqua and other engagements.

In this great lecture the wicked wastes of our civilization are reviewed. Protest is entered against the policy of perpetuating conditions that cause trouble and trying to cure trouble, instead of applying the Stop! Look! Listen! philosophy to prevent it. All should hear this man. Never has the bureau presented a man with greater confidence.

Movie Pictures.

Mr. Helms will show the following motion pictures tonight: Picturesque Italy; Newlyweds' First Meal. His pictures last night were excellent and many remained to see them. Remain this evening and enjoy a laugh.

Sidelines Good.

Rev. A. T. Robinson and his talented wife entertained and instructed many people in two lectures this forenoon. These lectures are wonderful. All enjoy them and Chautauqua hall is well filled each hour.

Wednesday at 10 a. m. Rev. Robinson will lecture on "Bridging the Abyss." His wife will lecture on the subject, "China, the Yellow Peril," at 11 a. m.

Attorney R. H. Scott was in Amboy this morning where he sold the 120-acre farm of the Katherine Hall estate.

ALLIES CONTINUE TO PRESS TEUTONS BACK

REPORTS FROM EVERY FRONT
SHOW GAINS FOR ENEMIES OF GERMANY.

(Associated Press)

The French made further advance last night east of Hill 135 in the Somme district, says the Paris statement today. A series of powerful German attacks this morning resulted in the Germans gaining a footing in Thiaumont works, where the fighting is still in progress. The attack on Fleury has been checked.

Caught Up With Turks.

London reports that the British troops who were pursuing the Turkish forces which they defeated last week at Romani have caught up with their rear guard 30 miles east of the Suez canal.

Russians Keep Coming

Petrograd announced today that south of the Dniester river in the direction of Tyszenoa the Russians have driven the Austro-Germans back along the whole line for a breadth of fifteen miles.

Report Naval Battles

Vienna today stated a number of Austro-Hungarian torpedo boats and cruisers had engaged and Italian cruiser and six destroyers August 2. The Italians were hit, and turning, disappeared. The Austrians returned unharmed. The same day the gun boat Magnet was hit by a torpedo by a hostile submarine and damaged in the stern, but it was brought to port. Two were killed, four were wounded and seven were missing.

British Push Forward.

London announced the British advanced their lines east of Trones Wood last night.

Many Prisoners.

In fighting along the Sereth river on Aug. 5 and 6, the Russians captured 166 officers and 84,000 men.

Berlin today admitted the Austro-Germans had withdrawn from Thumach-Ottymia south of the Dniester to a previously prepared position, owing to the strong Russian advance.

London, Aug. 8.—Five determined counter attacks by the Germans were beaten back by the British in the Pozieres sector, while on both the Somme and Meuse the French continued to make gains.

An entire line of German defenses on a half mile front from the wood north of Hem to the Somme was captured in a spectacular assault by General Foch's troops.

On the Verdun front General Nivelle threw his forces forward in new attacks in which a further gain was registered and more fortified houses in Fleury were taken.

British Repulse Attacks.

The Germans for more than eighteen hours have been striving desperately to develop a counter offensive against the British, but all their attempts have met with failure. Prolonged the five furious attacks, numerous attempts were made Sunday night to penetrate the British trenches east of Pozieres. General Haig reports that the English troops hold all the ground gained in previous attacks.

On the Verdun front during the night the Germans also determinedly launched attack after attack, only to be repulsed by the French barrier and machine gun fire. Both at Thiaumont and in the Vaux-Chapitre woods the German infantry was sent forward after strong artillery preparation, only to be driven back without having gained a foot of ground.

Three Airmen Shot Down.

During the day the French and British captured a number of German prisoners and took fifteen machine guns. Three German aeroplanes have been shot down, according to a Paris statement. French bombing squadrons during the night carried out extensive operations behind the German front and Berlin admits some damage was done to the great fortress of Metz by the aerial bombardment.

Dr. Harding has received a majority of 608 votes over the Rev. Herbert Corwin, according to returns. Both live in Topeka. Dr. Harding is a graduate in the Hahnemann college of Chicago.

CLARK 33 YEARS IN HOUSE

Speaker Don't Know Whether He Wants to Stay 33 Years More.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Republican Leader Mann reminded the house that Speaker Clark had just passed his thirty-third anniversary as a member of congress and Republicans and Democrats rose and cheered the speaker for several minutes.

Responding, Mr. Clark said he wasn't sure he wanted to remain in the house another thirty-three years, but he did know he wanted to stay as long as he could.

Don't Be Half Hearted

There are many people who cannot throw themselves heart and soul into anything. They are too self centered. All they care about is studying their own whims and fancies, and the result is bad for those they have to live with. Many housewives know how unsatisfactory it is to have a servant who goes about her work in a half hearted way. The girl herself takes no interest in the house. It does not matter to her whether it looks bright and tidy, or is just the reverse. So that she can get along comfortably by doing only a quarter of the work and that badly—for which she is paid, she is quite contented. The frequent complaints of a dissatisfied mistress make no difference. Mary Ann goes on doing just what she likes and how she likes, until at last those who employ her can stand her laziness and lack of interest no longer.

There is no doubt that half heartedness rarely—if, indeed, ever—pays. How can one expect to do so when, to be successful, one must not only work hard, but thoroughly? Yet success is always its own reward; and when this is achieved, the task, whether trivial or otherwise, becomes so interesting that, like a good story, we feel bound to keep on with it to the end. We are obliged to do it ourselves, for no one else can be entrusted with that in which we have taken so active a part. Who, for instance, having nearly finished making a beautiful dress, which gives every indication of being perfect, would willingly allow anyone however clever, to put the finishing touches to it? The woman who had started the work would wear herself out sooner than let another put in one stitch.

It is only the half hearted who can brook interference, and who will meekly stand by and let some one else act for them. Such spiritless conduct is to be condemned, for it is responsible for most of the failures in life. If we cannot throw ourselves, body and soul, into anything, it is best to drop it, for half heartedness never pays.

NEEDLEWORK NOTES

Do not hesitate to darn embroideries. It is quite the thing to do with fine and valuable pieces of work, just as fine lace mending is approved by even the wealthy if it is necessary to preserve a bit of beauty. Lace menders are so expert that it is difficult and frequently impossible to detect their work and it is possible to mend embroidery in the same way.

Tiny linen crochet baskets in which to serve salted nuts or bonbons at table are now decorated with colored initials or flower baskets done in cross stitch work. The work is put on at the sides where a solid oval or square is crocheted for the purpose. The bit of color makes the baskets look like little Dresden china ones, after they are starched and done up freshly.

Blanket stitch is popular at the present time, largely due to the fact that a bit of color can quickly be applied in a decorative way by means of this useful stitch. Some of the new serge dresses of dark blue have a bit of embroidery done in this way, using worsteds as the medium. Long and short blanket stitch around the collar and the sleeves or outlining a vest effect on the front of the dress, with perhaps a scroll design carried out in the same way on the girdle, gives a telling touch to the gown. Gray worsted or an old blue shade on a darker blue are new and attractive combinations.

Health Notes

Fill the foot of a soft sock with hot salt; then tie a knot in the sock leg; apply to aching ear or tooth and almost immediately relief will be the result.

To prevent your hands chapping always wash them in cold water; but if this is too Spartan for you, dusting them over with a little toilet oatmeal after each washing will sometimes prevent it.

The lungs chiefly influence beauty by the efficiency with which they purify the blood, and their influence is profound. Let them therefore be given the opportunity of doing their work well. Do not compress them with tight clothing. Give them pure air. Keep the bedroom windows open day and night.

One should not eat when tired, and eat lightly if suffering from any great emotion. Eat slowly always, and rest for half an hour after each meal. A woman who eats quickly or hurries to pleasure or work immediately after a meal will almost invariably suffer from flushings and red features sooner or later.

For the Housewife

When making up a linen or gingham dress with linen, Cluny or tochen lace it is well to shrink the lace first, then there will be no danger of puckering it when the dress is laundered.

Don't think that because the baby grows up too soon it is not worth while to provide him with conveniences. An inch thick rope, covered with soft material and stretched across a corner of the room about a foot from the floor, will help the baby to pull himself up or guide him in walking. His little hands grasp it easily, and it is an amusement as well as an aid in his baby gymnastics. It may be fastened to the wall on hooks and taken down when desired.

If you have aching, tired feet use Healo. It gives instant relief. It is a soothing, cooling remedy. Ask any druggist for it. 25c a box.

Mr. Hughes addressed a delegation of Welfare Workers and, in order, representatives of the Woman's party, employees of the Dodge automobile plant and the workers at the Cadillac plant.

To the suffragists Mr. Hughes reiterated his stand favoring the Anthony federal amendment, to which he said he had nothing to add.

In the afternoon he attended the ball game between the Athletics and the Tigers and posed with Sam Crawford, Nap Lajoie, Hughie Jennings and Ty Cobb for the movies.

Booming Cannon Greets Him.

Booming cannon and cheers from 100,000 persons greeted Mr. Hughes when he arrived in the morning. With Mrs. Hughes he rode at the head of a street parade immediately after their arrival.

Workers Not Mere Units.

At noon Mr. Hughes addressed a group of manufacturers and welfare workers, pleading for protection for working men. He said:

"It is an awful mistake to think of the men through whose activity production is possible as mere economic units. They are human beings. We are all working men in this country. We are in different spheres of activity, but we ought to have a sense of co-operation, so that every man takes pride in what he is doing and is doing it to the best of his ability because he is working alongside of every other man for the good of the country."

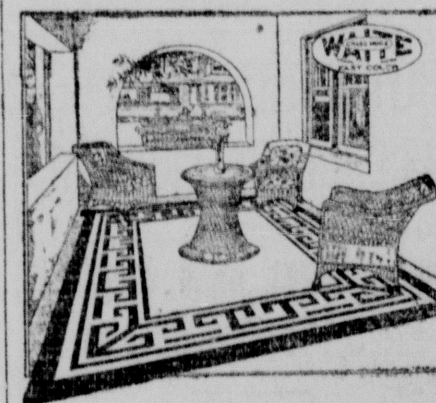

Moritz Rosenthal of New York spent Sunday in this city visiting with friends.

BRITISH TRAP ENTIRE BRIGADE OF MOSLEMS

Cavalry Draws Them into Net;
3,145 Captured.

London, Aug. 8.—The number of un wounded Turks captured by the British at the battle at Romani was 3,145, according to an official statement issued by the war office.

The statement says the Turks were pursued beyond Katia, which is twenty-three miles east of the Suez canal. Among the prisoners were seventy Germans, including thirty-six officers. A complete battery of German guns also was taken.

A description of how the Turks were drawn into a trap by British cavalry is given in a Cairo dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company. The dispatch says the cavalry was sent out to entice the enemy, who had shown a disposition to assume the offensive. The British horsemen fought an admirable rearguard action, says the dispatch, drawing on the Turks until their flanks were turned by the mounted division. A whole brigade was compelled to surrender.

Lewis Parks was here Friday on business.

One of the sales representatives of the Ford Motor company was in West Brooklyn this week and making an endeavor to stop Edward Henry from selling so many cars in this vicinity. Ed doesn't sell them by the one-half dozen as yet but he does sell from a half to an entire dozen in a day. It's only a fair exercise for him to go out and sell a few cars before breakfast to encourage his appetite. His victims from August 1st to 3rd were Frank Weisensall, Arthur Archer, John E. Buser, Wm. Stainbrook, Harry Abell, George Krumm, C. G. Pool, Jos. P. Sondgeroth, Ed. Henry Jr. and F. D. Gehant, who all purchased new cars, while he sold six second hand cars taken in trades to as many other customers.

E. E. Vincent and George Gehrig were to Mendota on Friday and returned with the latter's auto which had been there as the guest of the repair shop.

Gehant, D. O. Fairchild and H. F. Gehant and feels satisfied that he has made no mistake in investing in a country with so many grand opportunities before it. The weather has been hot out there but they have had nice rains which have been missing here. The crops are fine and the corn in fact is ahead of that in our state. The above gentlemen from West Brooklyn now own about three thousand acres in the one vicinity and with the others who are contemplating investing there our village should have quite a colony in Hughes and Sully counties if the local tenants should move to the lands to farm.

BIG VICTORY IS WON BY LATINS

Italians Take Austrian Lines and Capture 3,600 Men.

FIGHT RAGES ON LONG FRONT

Rome Announces Most Important Single Day's Advance in Month—Russes Continue to Gain—Only Fourteen Miles from Lemberg Railway—Drive Back at Two Points.

London, Aug. 8.—The capture of 3,600 Austrian prisoners and several lines of trenches in the Montefalco region, announced by the Italian war office, marks the greatest single day advance by the Italians since they turned back the Austrian drive and recaptured most of their lost territory more than a month ago.

The fighting rages along the entire Italian front from the peaks of the Tyrol to the sea. An Austrian offensive on the Siettemmuni Plateau was broken and hurled back and an Austrian position commanding the communication routes from the Travenza to the Gader Valley was recaptured, and in addition to the Montefalco gains other advances were chronicled.

Russ 13 Miles from Goal.

London, Aug. 8.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says: "Their successes to the south of Brody bring the Russians within four miles of the Tarnopol-Lemberg railway. It is reported that the Austrian forces at Tarnopol (on the route to Lemberg, the capital of Galicia) already are retreating in the direction of Zlochoff."

Russians Lose Heights.

Berlin, Aug. 8.—Efforts of the Russians to force the passage of the Carpathians are proving futile, according to advices received from Vienna. The army of the czar in the southern campaign, of which General Letchitzky has command, has not only been stopped, but has actually been forced back. The Austrian troops of Archduke Charles Francis, heir to the dual monarchy, have retaken the heights of Plank and Deeskovata, on the Cheremoch river, the Muscovites being unable to withstand the impetus of the new initiative.

Take Fortified Posts.

Petrograd, Aug. 8.—Further successes for the Russians along the Sereth and Graberka rivers in northern Galicia, south of Brody, were announced by the war office. The Russians captured strongly fortified positions in the region of the villages of Zvyjln, Kostiniec and Reniuv.

NEW YORK TRACTION STRIKE IS SETTLED

Mayor Mitchell Announces Agreement Has Been Reached.

New York, Aug. 8.—A settlement of the strike on the New York railway company's lines has been reached at the office of Mayor Mitchell, according to an announcement by the mayor.

Four directors of the New York Railway company conferred for four hours with Mayor Mitchell and Chairman Strauss of the public service commission in an effort to reach an agreement. Later the three leaders of the strikers were called in to the conference.

The terms of the agreement were not made public.

FEAR FOR KUT PRISONERS

Apprehension Felt in Britain for Men Whom Turks Captured.

London, Aug. 8.—Apprehension exists as to the fate of the British prisoners taken at the time of the surrender of Kut-el-Amara to the Turks. Lord Robert Cecil said in the house of commons that repeated inquiries had been made through the American embassy at Constantinople to ascertain the whereabouts of these prisoners, but that no reply had been received from the ports.

This, he said, inspired considerable misgivings, as the prisoners were compelled, after the fall of Kut-el-Amara, to cross the desert at the worst time of the year.

FRENCH BLACKLIST IS SAME

American Firms in Enemy Act Similar to Those Named by British.

Paris, Aug. 8.—The Official Journal publishes the names of American individuals and firms which have been placed on the French blacklist under the trading with the enemy act. The list, which is marked No. 1, is the same as regards American individuals and firms as that given out in London July 18.

Boy Is Drowned.

CANNING AND SANITATION

Nothing demonstrates the value of home sanitation in a more practical way than the home canning of fruits and vegetables, according to the demonstration agents of the department of Agriculture and State colleges who are working with the girls' canning clubs in the south. The first step in every canning demonstration is to make certain that the kitchen and all utensils are absolutely clean and that the product to be canned is in sound, wholesome condition. The next step is to sterilize thoroughly utensils, fruit, and cans and jars, as heat and cleanliness are the only preserving elements allowed. In teaching the "why" and "wherefore" of heat and cleanliness in canning, the demonstrators are able to give the girls in a simple way, practical knowledge of the effects of bacteria and molds and to make them realize that dirt is synonymous with these destructive germs. The girl who neglects to take these things into account soon gets a serious object lesson in a spoiled batch of canned vegetables. Following such demonstrations it is far easier to get families to adopt sanitary measures with milk, water and other foods than when the general subject of sanitation is attacked directly or in an abstract way.

In their campaigns against the house fly, the county agents in the south have found that inducing the children to make a home constructed fly trap is far more effective than literature or general discussion of the danger from these typhoid carriers. Once the family installs such a trap and sees that it is catching hundreds and thousands of these dirty insects right where their food is prepared, they are ready to consider further preventive measures as the destruction of the larvae of flies in the manure heaps. It is then not difficult to induce them to screen their doors and windows, and to continue the use of fly traps to catch the few flies that get in in spite of screens. Willingness to exercise the greatest care in the disposition of garbage and filth, and especially to prevent flies from passing from stables and outhouses into the house, follows logically.

Health Notes

There are two very simple but effective remedies for that kind of sleeplessness that comes from overwork or nervous exhaustion. One is to have the feet very warm. Put them against a rubber bag filled with hot water. A rubber bag is better than an earthen bottle, as it will retain the heat for hours. The second method is much more simple. Discard the pillow, turn over and lie on the stomach with hands clasped under the forehead to lift the head a trifle. This will often send one to sleep.

The thing to do if you are desirous of losing flesh is to restrict your diet to clear soups, lean meats, vegetables which contain iron but no fat, such as spinach, carrots, beets, turnips, squash, egg plant, oyster plant, celery, tomatoes, brussels sprouts, cabbage and string beans. Eat no corn, potatoes, either white or sweet; lima beans, peas, white bread, thick gravies, mayonnaise dressings, or salad; in fact, any dressing that contains much oil, or desserts. Eat fruit in the place of dessert, cut out cream and sugar in your cereal; in fact eliminate cereal altogether from your menu.

Imitation Angel Food Cake

Here is a good cake recipe. It is the kind to make when butter is scarce. Put a cup of milk into your double boiler and heat to the boiling point. Sift together four times one cup each of flour and sugar, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a pinch of salt, into this pour the cup of boiling hot milk and stir smooth, then add the whites of two eggs well beaten. Do not beat nor stir the eggs into the mixture but fold them in carefully, drawing the spoon through the batter towards you and pushing it back with the back of the spoon, then draw the spoon from right to left and shoving mixture back in same way. Repeat this until the whites of the eggs are evenly folded into the batter. Do not grease the tin nor flavor the cake. Bake in a moderate oven and frost with white icing.

For the Housewife

You can produce a brilliant polish on your glassware by adding a little turpentine to the washing water, about a couple of teaspoonfuls to the gallon.

When ironing round doilies or lunch-eon cloths place a heavy bath towel or piece of flannel on the board, then lay the linen so that the threads are parallel and at right angles to the board. If placed in this way the iron will naturally move with the threads of the linen. If the threads of the linen are ironed diagonally the linen will wear out much more quickly, so care should be taken to move the iron parallel with the threads of the linen. Embroidered pieces are always ironed on the wrong side.

Recipes

Brown Sauce.—One half cupful of brown sugar mixed with one fourth of a cupful of butter; add a pint of hot water, a little vinegar and as much flavoring as desired. Thicken with one tablespoonful of flour moistened with a little milk and boil. This sauce should be served hot.

Potatoes with Cheese.—Put creamed potatoes into a baking dish and cover with buttered breadcrumbs and grated cheese. Heat in the oven till the crumbs are brown. Or use on the potatoes the cheese sauce, and cover with buttered crumbs.

Kealo adds to your comfort. It is one of the best foot powders on the market. Price 25c. Sold by all druggists.

BACKING UP PROOF

THE KIND THAT DIXON PEOPLE CANNOT DENY

Many an earnest Dixon man or woman has publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills.

Week after week, month after month, you've read their statements.

Would these Dixon people recommend any medicine if it were not good?

Would they confirm and repeat their statements after years had passed?

Local proof is good evidence.

Testimony confirmed years after is better evidence.

The following Dixon man's statement leaves no room for doubt.

It must convince every kindly sufferer who reads it.

If your back aches—if your kidneys are weak—profit by Mr. Walford's experience:

W. Walford, blacksmith, Peoria Ave., Dixon, says: "The kidney secretions were irregular in passage. My back ached too. I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and the pains left my back and my kidneys became regular in action." (Statement given May 21, 1912.)

NO TROUBLE SINCE

On January 21, 1915, Mr. Walford said: "I have had no kidney trouble at all in the past few years and I give the credit of my cure to Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Walford has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
